21 STATUS REPORT

22 Plaintiffs and Defendants in the above-captioned action respectfully submit this status
23 report pursuant to the Court's order of December 6, 2022, which directed the parties to meet and 24 confer and file a status report regarding a proposed case schedule. See Cherry et al. v. RealPage,
25 Inc., et al., No. 2:22-cv-01618-RSL (W.D. Wash.), ECF No. 21. Pursuant to the Court's order,
26 Plaintiffs and Defendants met and conferred regarding a proposed case schedule on December 27 19, 2022. They have stated their respective positions on the subject below.

28 Plaintiffs' Position. The Parties had previously filed stipulated motions in Alvarez and 29 Navarro requesting that the Court suspend Defendants' deadlines to respond to the complaint,
30 in light of the fact that several actions had been filed and continued to be filed in courts around

31 STATUS REPORT

1 the country, and instead file a status report on December 21, 2022. . See Navarro Dkt. 21, 41;
 2 Alvarez Dkt. 11. In Cherry, this Court ordered the parties to file a status report by December
 3 21, 2022 after the case was transferred. Cherry Dkt. 41.

4 Since then, several critical developments have transpired readying the case for a
 5 schedule, as explained below.

6 First, this case is one of many involving Defendant RealPage, Inc. and several other
 7 overlapping defendants that was related to Navarro, et al. v. RealPage, Inc., et al., No. 2:22-cv-
 8 01552-RSL, and re-assigned to this Court. At this point, 11 cases involving RealPage in the 9 Western District of Washington are now pending before this Court.

10 Second, on December 8 and 9, 2022, Defendants filed a motion before the Judicial 11 Panel on Multi-District Litigation (“JPML”) seeking to have various litigation matters, 12 including those pending before this Court, transferred to the Northern District of Texas. See 13 e.g., Alvarez Dkt. 31. Defendants filed that motion after counsel for the plaintiffs in these 14 various actions had begun coordinating to dismiss and re-file their matters in this Court,
 15 consistent with the JPML’s instruction that plaintiffs must explore alternatives to centralization,
 16 such as seeking to privately agree on a consensus jurisdiction, prior to burdening the JPML
 17 with a centralization motion under Section 1407.¹ On December 16, 2022, the JPML sua
 18 sponte dismissed Defendants’ motion to transfer venue as moot because plaintiffs’ successful
 19 coordination deprived the matter of its multi-jurisdictional character. See Alvarez Dkt. 46.

20 Third, on December 19, 2022, the plaintiffs in all cases pending at that point in time
 21 before the Western District of Washington filed a motion to consolidate these cases and appoint
 22 interim co-lead class counsel and a plaintiffs’ executive committee to promote efficient
 23 coordination of these related litigation matters. See Navarro Dkt. 67.

25 ¹ In re: Gerber Probiotic Prod. Mktg. & Sales Pracs. Litig., 899 F. Supp. 2d 1378, 1379–80 (U.S. Jud. Pan. Mult.
 26 Lit. 2012) (“The Panel has often stated that centralization under Section 1407 ‘should be the last solution after 27 considered review of all other options.’ In re Best Buy Co., Inc., California Song–Beverly Credit Card Act Litig., 804 F. Supp. 2d 1376, 1378 (J.P.M.L. 2011). These options include: Section 1404 transfer; dismissal or stay under the first-to-file doctrine; agreement by plaintiffs to voluntarily dismiss their actions in favor of one district; and cooperation and coordination among the parties and the various transferor courts.”).

1 These developments make clear that all related cases in The Western District of
 2 Washington either have been, or are soon expected to be, coordinated before this Court.²

3 Defendants' main stated reason for continuing to delay is the existence of certain,
 4 copycat actions filed within the last week by a single group of law firms on behalf of subsets of 5 the proposed nationwide multifamily class of renters. See Weaver v. RealPage, Inc., et al., No.
 6 1:22-cv-3224 (D. Col.) (proposed class of multifamily renters in the Denver area); White v.
 7 RealPage, Inc., et al., No. 1:22-cv-12134 (D. Mass.) (proposed class of multifamily renters in 8 the Boston area); Vincin et al. v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 1:22-cv-01329 (W.D. Tex.)
 9 (proposed class of multifamily renters in the Austin area); (Carter v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No.
 10 1:22-cv-1332 (W.D. Tex.) (proposed class of multifamily renters in the Austin area; and 11 Boelens v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01802 (W.D. Wash.) (proposed class of 12 multifamily renters in the Seattle area).

13 Plaintiffs are reaching out to the plaintiffs in those actions to see if they will consent to 14 transfer and consolidation of those cases before this Court. In any case, the existence of these 15 copycat cases —filed months after the actions here—is no reason to halt progress in the 16 pending cases already before this Court.

17 In particular, in the event that the Court grants Plaintiffs' pending, unopposed
 18 leadership motions, Plaintiff counsel will represent, respectively, putative nationwide classes of 19 multifamily and student renters and will have the full ability to efficiently coordinate all 20 litigation nationwide pending on behalf of the classes. Appointment of leadership would 21 confirm that Plaintiff counsel is interim class counsel on behalf of nationwide classes, including 22 subsets of that class for which copycat actions are currently pending outside this district.
 23 Plaintiffs anticipate that prompt appointment of leadership in these cases would be efficient
 24 because it may obviate any need for an MDL in the event that Defendants renew those efforts.
 25 Therefore, the Court's ruling on the pending, unopposed leadership motions would be greatly

27 2 Plaintiffs in the recently filed Boelens case noted on their civil cover sheet that the case was related to the eleven cases pending before this Court. See Boelens v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01802 (W.D. Wash.), Dkt. 1.

1 beneficial in aiding Plaintiffs' continued efforts to coordinate all related cases.

2 Defendants also provide no explanation for why the Court should delay in resolving
 3 Plaintiffs' motion to consolidate nor do they voice any substantive objection to consolidation.
 4 Indeed, Defendants themselves repeatedly emphasize the need for efficiency and do not dispute
 5 that the cases are related. There is no reason to delay on consolidating the cases that are 6 currently before this court.

7 Therefore, Plaintiffs think that these cases are now ready to proceed. Plaintiffs 8 respectfully submit that the Court should grant the pending consolidation motion and adopt the 9 following schedule:

- 10 • 45 Days After Order Granting Consolidation: Plaintiffs to file Consolidated 11 Class Action Complaint.
- 12 • 45 Days After Consolidated Complaint or Order Denying Consolidation:
 13 Defendants to file consolidated motion to dismiss not to exceed 30 pages.³ Each
 14 Defendant may have the option to file a separate, additional statement not exceeding 15 4 pages addressing unique issues that cannot be addressed are not covered in a joint brief.
- 16 • 45 Days After Motion to Dismiss: Plaintiffs to file a consolidated opposition not 17 to exceed 30 pages, with up to 4 pages to respond to each separate statement by a 18 Defendant (which may be filed separately or in a consolidated fashion).
- 19 • 21 Days After Opposition to Motion to Dismiss: Defendants to file a 20 consolidated reply brief not to exceed 15 pages. To the extent any Defendant filed a
 21 separate opposition addressing Defendant-specific concerns, they shall have up to 2
 22 additional pages to file a reply to any Defendant-specific opposition filed by 23 Plaintiffs.
- 24 • Hearing on Motion to Dismiss: To be scheduled at the Court's convenience.

25 Defendants' Position. Defendants respectfully submit that it would be premature to 27 ³ Plaintiffs are willing to meet and confer further with Defendants regarding page limits.

1 enter a case schedule at this time. The above-captioned action is related to at least 15 other
 2 actions, including four actions respectively pending in the Western District of Texas, the District
 3 of Colorado, and the District of Massachusetts.⁴ Defendants believe that judicial and party
 4 efficiency is best served by first determining the District in which all 16 of these actions
 5 (collectively, the “Related Actions”) will be consolidated and heard for common pre-trial
 6 proceedings before imposing a litigation schedule, or ordering any other activity, in this matter.
 7 Defendants and other defendants named in the Related Actions will soon be filing a motion to 8 transfer Related Actions, including the above-captioned action, to a District outside Washington.
 9 A group of defendants named in the Related Actions, including many Defendants, previously
 10 filed a motion under 28 U.S.C. § 1407 before the U.S. Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation 11 (the “Panel”) to consolidate the Related Actions in the Northern District of Texas, which the 12 Panel dismissed as moot, on December 16, 2022, because all extant cases at the time of dismissal
 13 were in the Western District of Washington.⁵ In the intervening five days, however, four Related 14 Actions have been filed outside the Western District of Washington. Moreover, because the most 15 recently filed cases were filed by different Plaintiffs’ counsel, there is no indication that those 16 cases will be dismissed and re-filed here. The Related Actions accordingly span multiple districts
 17 and a transfer of Related Actions to one District is necessary so that they may proceed efficiently.
 18

21 ⁴ These fifteen other related actions are: (1) Navarro v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01552-RSL (W.D. Wash.);
 22 (2) Alvarez et al. v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01617-RSL (W.D. Wash.); (3) Morgan et al. v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01712 (W.D. Wash.); (4) Armas et al. v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01726 (W.D. Wash.); (5) Johnson v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01734 (W.D. Wash.); (6) Silverman et al. v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01740 (W.D. Wash.); (7) Bohn et al. v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01743 (W.D. Wash.); (8) Pham et al. v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01744 (W.D. Wash.); (9) Weaver v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 1:22-cv-03224 (D. Colo.); (10) Godfrey v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01759 (W.D. Wash.); (11) Zhovmiruk v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01779 (W.D. Wash.); (12) White v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 1:22-cv-12134 (D. Mass.); (13) Vincin et al. v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 1:22-cv-01329 (W.D. Tex.); (14) Carter v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 1:22-cv-1332 (W.D. Tex.); and (15) Boelens v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-01802 (W.D. Wash.).

23 ⁵ At the time Defendants filed their original § 1407 motion, multiple actions were pending outside the Western 24 District of Washington, but, after the motion was filed, Plaintiffs dismissed those actions and re-filed several here,
 25 likely in an attempt to moot the motion.

1 For similar reasons, the Court should not take up Plaintiffs' invitation to consider their
 2 motions for consolidation and to appoint lead counsel unless and until disputes over the proper
 3 venue for the Related Actions are resolved in favor of the Western District of Washington. As 4 an initial matter, Plaintiffs' characterization of their leadership motion as "unopposed" is
 5 premature. Further, even if the Court were to grant Plaintiffs' leadership motion, Defendants
 6 disagree that such a ruling could bind plaintiffs in other Districts. In fact, not even all of the 7 Related Actions in the Western District of Washington are subject to Plaintiffs' consolidation
 8 and leadership motions. In any event, Plaintiffs no doubt prefer this forum considering that they 9 first filed lawsuits in other states before dismissing them only to re-file here, but where, as here,
 10 cases exist in multiple Districts, judicial and party efficiency necessitates resolving the proper 11 venue for all Related Actions before proceeding in only a subset of them. Moreover, in one of 12 the other Related Actions currently before this Court, Defendant Equity Residential filed a 13 Motion to Transfer Case to the Southern District of California based on authorities that have 14 rejected the type of maneuvering in which the plaintiffs in that Related Action have engaged.
 15 See Morgan et al. v. RealPage, Inc. et al., No. 2:22-cv-017120-RSL (W.D. Wash.), ECF No. 20.
 16 Defendants believe that a resolution of Equity Residential's motion will be relevant to the 17 determination of where the Related Actions belong.

20 Given the rapidly evolving landscape of cases and the multiple disputes over their proper
 21 venue, Defendants respectfully request that the Court decline to enter a case schedule at this time,
 22 preserve the existing suspension of the deadline for Defendants to respond to the Complaint in 23 the above-captioned action, and direct Plaintiffs and Defendants to file a status report by January
 24 18, 2023 to apprise the Court of still unfolding events.⁶

25
 26
 27 ⁶ If the Court is inclined to enter a case schedule, Defendants disagree with Plaintiffs' proposed briefing schedule and page limits and respectfully request that the Court direct the parties to meet and confer regarding those matters.
